HAND AND WRIST THERAPIST

We are currently looking for a hand and wrist therapist to join our team in Launceston. We are a team dedicated to providing therapy services to assist people to recover from injury, manage their condition, reduce pain and symptoms, and return to the activities they love. Our vision is to provide therapy that our clients and referrers can rely on, and we are on a mission to build a team of health professionals who can educate, support and care for our clients.

Health Nest began in August 2017 and we have enjoyed being a start up business in the Launceston area. As we have grown, we are in need of wonderful person to join our team as our new hand and wrist therapist. We are on the search for someone pretty amazing. We are looking for someone who is hard working, a delight to be around, and someone who is friendly and honest. Are you our missing person?

What is involved in this position?

This position involves providing therapy to clients including splinting, casting, exercise for regaining movement and strength, scar care, and wound care. It involves seeing a variety of clients including chronic and acute injuries, as well as post operative care. Our practice runs a full time hand and wrist service for assessment and review appointments, and provides weekly treatment in between those as required.

Not sure if you have the skills?

We will provide training if you feel you need to update your hand therapy knowledge and skillset for this role. There are lots of opportunities if you have the passion to learn.

This position would be a great match for you if:

- You are looking for a career that allows you to grow for the long term
- You don't mind rolling up your sleeves and doing a bit of hard work
- You are happy to follow systems and procedures to ensure consistency in your work, but can also appreciate the need for individual treatment.
- You love efficiency and have the initiative to get things done when you see they are needed
- You are keen to engage in more training as needed, and like our philosophy that as therapists we engage in life long learning to better ourselves and help our clients.
- You have the passion for hand and wrist therapy that will allow you to push outside your comfort zone in a supported environment to further your skills.

The position is not great for you if:

- You can't get through a work day without feeling the need to check your social media followers
- You feel like the glass is always half empty
- You are not open to personal growth or a bit of a challenge
- You are needing a 'stepping stone' job till your other dream job comes up
- You just want 'a job' – anyone will do!
- You want to work with a big team

We are looking for someone to mentor and train who also wants to grow. We promise a workplace that will challenge and stretch you as well as care and support you. We are a determined and driven team but we also know how to have fun.

Ideally we are looking for someone who is available full time, however if you are looking to return to work after having children and school hours suits you better, or you can't quite commit to full time at the moment because you are studying or care for someone, please still apply as we are happy to be flexible for the right person.

Perks of the job include:

- Great training when you start, and also ongoing learning opportunities
- The opportunity to be part of something special - helping people who are recovering from illness and helping our team and business to grow
- Being part of a friendly supportive workplace
- Being part of a workplace awarded this year as 'Employer of Choice' in Tasmania in 2019
- Above award salary

We are looking for someone who would be available to start in as soon as possible.
